

Welcome to Crafternoon Cabaret Club!

My name is Hannah Cox – I'm a total craft magpie and I'm passionate about trying new crafts, learning new skills and exploring the creative world around me.

I believe that everyone can be creative and that one of the joys of crafts and making is experimenting with materials, working with your hands and just having fun!

The Blog

On my blog you'll find me writing about some of my favourite things: crafts, DIY, travel, London living, books, events I've attended and where I find inspiration. This blog began as a way of documenting my creative journey – I felt like I had stopped being creative for myself and I wanted to find some new hobbies. Since then my blog has grown and I have found an amazing home in the craft blogging community.

Crafternoon Cabaret Club is primarily read by readers in the UK and USA, as well as Australia. Hannah regularly interacts with readers via social media and readers say they love her creative ideas, simple makes and colourful lifestyle.

The Event

Crafternoon Cabaret Club is the award winning London craft event where you can make and natter to your hearts content to the backdrop of top-notch cabaret performances. I run my monthly craft workshops at The Book Club, The Library Pub and The Hospital Club, London (I like bars with quirky names that make damn good cocktails!).
